Cellboost to, um, boost your cell

Don't you just hate when your cell phone or iPod run out of power?

Especially when you're a) in the middle of a call, or b) in the middle of your favourite track. So infuriating, I think you'll agree.

Well girls (and guys), help is at hand in the form of Cellboost from, er, Cellboost. It's a mercury free disposable battery/charger that can be inserted into the battery socket of almost any spec phone or iPod.

No wires needed - it transfers energy via a quick-charge protocol (apparently). What's more, Cellboost provides one hours power to your mobile/cell even whilst charging, and a whopping 60 hours standby time. And for your iPod? Cellboost'll give you 8 precious extra hours of tunes. More power to you for just £4.99 (mobile phone) or £6.99 (iPod).
